

Manitoba Health Standards Review:

Dinsdale Personal Care Home has successfully met Manitoba Health Standards requirements as determined by the review conducted on September 19, 2012 and resulting follow-up actions.

Accreditation Canada:

Dinsdale Personal Care Home is subject to an review by Accreditation Canada. This accreditation process happens every four years. The most recent accreditation was completed in May 2013. The Home has just received word that it has been accredited once again. There are a few items to address after which Dinsdale Personal Care Home can be upgraded to Accreditation with commendation.

Salvation Army Accreditation:

In addition to other external reviews, The Salvation Army Territorial Headquarters conducts its own accreditation review. This occurs once every three years. Dinsdale Personal Care Home has met the requirements of it most recent review in 2011 and is accredited according to those standards.