Rich Kent's Monthly Joke

Throughout the globe, business people look to maximize production and hopefully profits. An egg farmer was faced with this exact dilemma. To increase egg production, he erected a sign in the hen house that reads: "An egg a day keeps Colonel Sanders away".

Anne Reimer

On May 10th, in Plum Coulee, Manitoba, Henry and Katherina Penner welcomed Anne into their lives. Anne, alongside her 11 siblings, would attend school in Plum Coulee during the day and then head back to the farm to help out with chores. Farming was a significant part of Anne's life from growing up on a farm to working on a farm in Killarney from 1960-1984.

Ike was the love of Anne's life. The two of them got married on November 5th, 1949, in Rosenort, Manitoba. Together they had four children, Ken, Gordon, Marvin, and Darcey. Anne loves to share stories of the memories she has of Ike, and often encourages others to find love like she did. She is a proud mother of her 4 boys and their wives, especially after they blessed her with 30 grandchildren, and 14 great-grandchildren.

Aside from spending time with her family, Anne enjoys flowers, walking around and absolutely loves eating sweets!
